Berlin Regional Court discontinues proceedings for imposition of administrative fine on Deutsche Wohnen

Berlin, 23 February 2021. On 30th September 2019, Berlin's Officer for Data Protection and Freedom of Information had issued an administrative order imposing a fine of approximately EUR 14.5 million on Deutsche Wohnen because of assumed breaches of the General Data Protection Regulation [Datenschutz-Grundverordnung – DS-GVO]. Following the company's appeal against the fine, the Berlin Regional Court has discontinued these legal proceedings.

The responsible authority had accused Deutsche Wohnen of failing in the period between May 2018 and March 2019 to adopt measures that would have enabled the company to delete regularly and to a sufficient extent tenant data that was not or no longer required.

The 26th criminal division of the Berlin Regional Court has now discontinued the legal proceedings because the administrative order was invalid.

The Officer for Data Protection and Freedom of Information can lodge an immediate appeal with Berlin's Court of Appeal [Kammergericht] against the ruling of the Berlin Regional Court within one week.
